

2019 RMPC Group Program Highlights

Reduce Your 2019 Renewal Premium With Sustained Risk Management

Since 2006, United Educators (UE) has rewarded members who have taken action to reduce risk at their school, college, or university with a risk management premium credit (RMPC). Many members have participated in this program, affecting risk at their institution to reduce claims, and benefiting the entire UE membership by doing so. The RMPC program for groups is designed to facilitate an exchange of information between UE and its members, enabling us to understand the risks facing your group and offer solutions relevant to your environment.

It's important to get an early start in working toward your group's 2019 RMPC. The qualifying activities described below are time-sensitive. To earn the 4 percent premium discount, members should work with their group administrator to initiate activity immediately after their 2018 renewal or new policy issuance (with effective dates between May 1, 2018, and April 30, 2019). Credits earned for completed qualifying activities will be awarded on the 2019 renewal (between May 1, 2019, and April 30, 2020) of their UE policies.

2019 RMPC Qualifying Activities for Groups

To earn the 2019 RMPC, a minimum number of group members must participate in the activities below within 120 days of their 2018 renewal:

- Risk Management Survey: This two-part survey seeks member feedback about their relationship with UE and information about the risks that matter most to their school or campus. A benchmarking report will be made available for members at the conclusion of the program.

Eighty percent of group members must complete the survey for group RMPC eligibility.

- Contact Form Update: To ensure that the appropriate contacts at UE member institutions are receiving information relevant to their role, members will be asked to update the contact information we have on file for them.

Eighty percent of members must update their contact form for group RMPC eligibility.

The final step to earn the premium credit must be completed within 10 months of renewal:
